Introduction

Marriage is a sacrament, a Sacred Mystery that involves an invitation for two people to start a new life as one. This oneness involves mutual and self-giving love which is the reflection of God's love for His bride, the Church. Married life is a vocation requiring special grace that is conferred through the Mystery of Holy Crowning. During this Divine Liturgy, God pours His grace upon the couple. This grace is intended to perfect the couple's commitment and strengthen the indissoluble nature of this unity. The marriage bond has been established by God himself, in such a way that a marriage consummated between baptized persons can never be dissolved. (Catechism of the Catholic Church, Article 7:1601). The Syro-Malankara Catholic Church is one of the Eastern Catholic Churches whose liturgy originated in Antioch, where followers of Christ were called "Christians" for the first time in history. The

Initial Prayers

Facing the east, the worshipper bows and makes the sign of the Cross † as the main celebrant says:

Priest: In the name of the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit †, one true God forever and ever.

Faithful: Amen.

Priest: Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God Almighty. Heaven and earth are full of your glory. Hosanna in the highest!

Faithful: Blessed is He who has come, and is to come, in the name of the Lord. Hosanna in the highest!

Priest: Holy are you, O God.

Faithful: Holy are you, the Mighty. Holy are you the Immortal. Who were crucified for us †, have mercy on us. (x 3)

This is said three times; each time the worshipper bows the head and makes the sign of the Cross.

Priest: Have mercy on us, O Lord.

Faithful: Have pity and mercy on us, O Lord. Receive our services and prayers, and have mercy on us, O Lord.

Priest: Glory to you, O God.

Faithful: Glory to you, O Creator. Glory to you, O Christ the King, who have compassion on your sinful servants. *Barekmor.
[Bless me O Lord].

Priest: Our Father, who art in Heaven.

Faithful: Hallowed be Thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, on earth as it is in Heaven. Give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespassed against us, and lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from the evil one. For Thine is the kingdom, the power, and the glory, now and forever. Amen.

Priest: Hail Mary, full of grace!

Faithful: The Lord is with thee. Blessed are thou among women, and blessed is the fruit of thy womb, our Lord Jesus Christ. Holy Mary, Mother of God, pray for us sinners, now and at the hour of our death. Amen.

The Order of Holy Matrimony

Rite of Betrothal and Blessing of the Rings

In the tradition of the Syro-Malankara Catholic Church, the liturgy for matrimony is divided into two parts. The first part, the “Rite of Betrothal,” is asking God to set a unity upon the couple which cannot be broken; a blessing of peace, oneness of mind, a spirit of truth and love. After receiving consent from the concerned parties, the priest will bless the rings and confirm their agreement in the presence of God by placing the rings on the couple. The priest acts in persona Christi during his service, so he is the one who puts the ring on the fingers of the bride and groom. The Blessing of the Rings by the hands of the priest is also an outward sign that the Bride and Groom join in marriage of their own free will and consent without

Priest: Sub'ho labo labro valrooho qadisho
[Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit]

Faithful: May mercy and compassion be shown to us, weak and sinful servants, in both worlds forever. Amen.

DECLARATION OF CONSENT

The bridegroom and bride stand before the Sanctuary, with the bride standing to the right of the bridegroom.

The best man stands to the left of the bridegroom while the matron of honor stands to the right of the bride.

The priest asks the bridegroom:

Priest: Beven, our son in the Lord, in accordance with divine ordinances and the precepts of the Holy Church, do you consent to marry Beven, who is here present?

Bridegroom: I do.

To the witness (best man), the priest asks:

Priest: Did you hear this declaration of consent?

Witness: I did.

The priest asks the bride:

Priest: Anju, our daughter in the Lord, in accordance with divine ordinances and the precepts of the Holy Church, do you consent to marry Beven, who is here present?

Bride: I do.

To the witness (matron of honor), the priest asks:

Priest: Did you hear this declaration of consent?

Witness: I did.

THE FIRST SERVICE

THE BLESSING OF THE RINGS

Priest: Introductory Prayer

Faithful: Amen.

Psalm 51

Have mercy on me, O God,
According to your merciful love;
According to your abundant mercy
Blot out my transgressions.

Wash me thoroughly from my iniquity,
And cleanse me from my sin!

For I know my transgressions,
And my sin is ever before me.

Against you, you only, have I sinned,
And done that which is evil in your sight,
So that you are justified in your sentence
And blameless in your judgment.

Behold, I was brought forth in iniquity,
And in sin did my mother conceive me.

Behold, you desire truth in the inward being;
Therefore teach me wisdom in my secret heart.

Purge me with hyssop, and I shall be clean;
Wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow.
Make me hear joy and gladness;
Let the bones which you have broken rejoice.
Hide your face from my sins,
And blot out all my iniquities.
Create in me a clean heart, O God,
And put a new and right spirit within me.

Cast me not away from your presence,
And take not your Holy Spirit from me.

Restore to me the joy of your salvation,
And uphold me with a willing spirit.
Then I will teach transgressors your ways,
And sinners will return to you.

Deliver me from bloodguilt, O God,
O God of my salvation,
And my tongue will sing aloud of your deliverance.

O Lord, open my lips,
And my mouth shall show forth your praise.

For you take no delight in sacrifice;
Were I to give a burnt offering,
You would not be pleased.

The sacrifice acceptable to God is a broken spirit;
A broken and contrite heart, O God,
You will not despise.
Do good to Zion in your good pleasure;
Rebuild the walls of Jerusalem,

Then will you delight in right sacrifices,
In burnt offerings and whole burnt offerings;
Then bulls will be offered on your altar.

Praise is due to you, O God. Barekmor.

The heavenly Bridegroom betrothed to His Bride, the faithful Church. He called Simon and John and bestowed on them responsibilities. He made Simon the keeper of His house and John, the preacher of the Gospel. He asked them to protect with vigilance the Church which He bought with His blood. Barekmor.

O faithful Church, be not disturbed. Let your heart not be troubled. Since you have been faithful to me, I also shall not forsake you. At the end of the world, even if the sky and the earth may disintegrate, no danger shall befall you. Your throne has been firmly established in the house of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit.

The Blessing of the Rings

A server holds the rings and priest says the following prayer:

Priest: Praise to the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, who blesses these rings in His mercy and abundant and eternal grace.

The priest waves his right hand over the rings and blesses them, saying:

1. Priest: These rings are blessed for the perfection of joy of the children of the holy Church, in the name of the † Father, and of the † Son, and of the living † Holy Spirit, forever and ever.

The bells are rung as the rings are blessed. Turning to the west, and giving the ring to the bridegroom, the priest says:

Priest: May our Lord Jesus Christ mercifully extend His right hand to you. Together with this ring of your betrothal, may you receive the grace and blessing of the Merciful Lord. And, may His right hand, full of goodness and blessing, be with you and protect you all the days of your life.

Again, facing the west, and giving the ring to the bride, the priest says:

Priest: May the Lord Jesus Christ extend His invisible right hand, which is full of blessing, upon you. May you receive this ring of your betrothal from the hands of the priest as if from the hands of the holy apostles. And, with health of body and soul, and with joy of heart, may you offer praise to our Lord, and His Father, and His Holy Spirit.

The Church am I, the holy Church, The bride of heavenly Bridegroom.

The holy Church marvels and asks, Who is my spouse? Bless'd am I.

He who came and married me, it's Him who I lovingly worship.

Through the holy Baptism, He gave me a spiritual shield.

And He put on my fingers, Rings of His Body and Blood.

*Traversing hazardous ways, with daring robbers on the way,
I came to the shores of the Jordan River, and sought for Him among the crowd.*

Having gone to my Father, I shall send the Holy Spirit.”*

THE SECOND SERVICE

THE BLESSING OF THE CROWNS

Sacred Mystery of Holy Crowning

The second part of the service is known as the “Blessing of the Crowns.” In the Malankara Syriac Church, each wedding is a form of Coronation. The Bride and Groom are regarded as part of the ‘royal family’ of God— they are crowned king and queen of their own dominion, their new fellowship and family. It is a symbol of man’s royal nature, stemming from Adam, who was king of his dominion before he sinned. Crowns are also a symbol of victory for those who have “fought the good fight” of the Christian life and have “kept the faith.” They are a sign of the bond between the Bride and Groom and represent the glory and honor which God bestows upon the couple who have observed His Commands. Traditionally, gold crowns were placed on the couple’s heads, but nowadays, two gold necklaces are blessed and placed around the necks of the couples, as Jesus raises them as King and Queen of their family. These necklaces are crossed three times over the heads of the Bride and Groom

[English Translation]

1. Grant to the priests and deacons, O Lord! Your joy in love, By the crown to the bridegroom, And to the bride, by the chamber.
2. How splendid is this crown, that is made by the Messiah, With which spouses are crowned, by the hands of His priests.
3. The bridegroom's crown is similar, to our Lord's crown of thorns, The crown of the bride is similar, to the crown of chaste spouses.

Crowning the bride, the priest says:

Priest: May God crown you with the crown of justice, adorn you with ornaments of imperishable beauty. May you rejoice all the days of your life, offering praise to the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.

Blessing of the Thali (Minnu)

The Thali or Minnu is one of the main symbols of the covenant of marriage among Christians in India. It is a leaf shaped pendant with a cross made of seven small beads in the center. The minnu symbolizes the bond of marriage between husband and wife as a reflection of Christ's love for His bride the Church. The minnu is placed on a string made up of seven strands of thread taken from the manthrokodi and tied around the bride's neck by the groom. The knot reflects the permanence of marriage, and the bride wears the minnu for the rest of her life as a sign of their marriage.

Priest: This sign of the Cross is blessed in the name of the † Father, and of the † Son, and of the living † Holy Spirit, forever and ever.

Faithful: Amen.

The bridegroom ties the minnu around the neck of the bride.

Receiving of the Manthrakodi

The Wedding Saree (Manthrokodi)

The manthrokodi is a saree given as a gift to the bride from the groom and his family. Literally translated the name means 'blessed cloth.' The manthrokodi is symbolic of Christ's clothing His bride the Church with glory. It is put over the bride's head as a mantle and reflects the promise of the groom to honor, protect, and provide for his new bride for the rest of their lives. It also symbolizes the chastity and devotion of the bride to her lifelong husband united in marriage by God.

During this ritual, the bride's sister or relative who stands behind the bride during the initial ceremony is replaced by the groom's sister or relative as symbolic of a family shift and induction of the bride into the groom's family. At the end of the service the priest takes the hands of the bride and groom and joins them

Afterwards, the groom places the manthrakodi upon the head of the bride.

Meanwhile, the following hymn is chanted thrice:

Shuba chinnaam thaa-n sleeba

Vijaya kkodi thaa-n sleeba

Nanme rakshi-cheedum

Sleebayil pukazhun-nu naam.

The Holy Cross is blessing
The sign of our salvation
The Holy Cross redeems us
In the Cross we exult.

Sleebo oso d'shaino
Sleebo neesod sokooso
Sleebo behu preekenaan
Bekoolan mes tha'b harenaan.

The priest turns to the west, faces the couple, and blesses them:

[English Translation]

O the glorious architect of the garden of Eden, You are my young bridegroom. Let the gentle breeze coming from your garden comfort me.

O Lord, you are my just and true bridegroom and I am your humble bride. You are my refuge. Have mercy on your maid.

My Lord, do not ever go away from me. Do not separate me from your love. If you do not show favor to me, I will wear out and die.

Lord, see that I am lovely. Let me enter into your happiness
Permit me to lie by your side.

I spent days, months, and years in the darkness of sin.

But when I heard your life-giving voice, my eyes shone and my heart delighted.

Lord have mercy upon us and help us.

*Open, O Lord your door of, mercy unto us
Hear our prayers and on our souls, bestow your mercy.*

*O Son of God extend your right hand on the heads
Of these spouses and bless † them and, the crowns that adorn them.*

*O Lord, call these spouses by name and grant your blessings †
Let their lives be full of blessings, in the home of light.*

*By the-prayers of your Blessed Mother and of all saints
Bless † O Lord forever these Faithful who stand before you.*

*O Lord that your servants may sing your praises with harps
Kindly bless † them and the hymns that their mouths now bring forth.*

*You who accept all our petitions and give answers
Heed our prayers and bestow your grace on our souls, Lord.*

Exhortation

The priest faces west and exhorts the couple saying:

Priest: Beloved brethren, while we are gathered in God's holy church, let us recall our venerable custom, handed over by our holy fathers and revered ancestors, of sternly admonishing and commanding the faithful and especially this couple who stand before us, to be solicitous in truth and justice and in good deeds, and enthusiastic in performing all good things.

My beloved children, Beven and Anju, bear in mind that you now stand before the very presence of God, before the altar which is the throne of our Lord Jesus Christ, before the holy Cross, before the holy Gospel, and before this congregation. You stand not before Him who is ignorant of your hearts, but before Him who knows your innermost thoughts. Behold, from this time forward, I entrust you to one another.

The priest joins the hands of the couple and continues:

May God be the mediator between you and me. I shall be innocent of anything you do against His ordinances. May the grace and blessings of God be showered abundantly upon the priests, deacons, faithful, bride and groom, hosts and guests. By the prayers of the Blessed Virgin Mary, the Mother of God, and those of His Saints who loved

Him and observed His commandments, may the right hand of Jesus Christ be placed upon your heads and remain there forever. †

The couple makes the sign of the cross.

Beloved faithful, give heed to this instruction, for it is meant for all of you. Learn for yourselves what manner of fellowship each one should have with his wife: she has left her family and is united to her husband; therefore, he has to please her and be kind in his dealings with her. He has to behave with her as if to his own self. He shall feed her even if he must go hungry; even if he is thirsty, he must give her drink. Likewise, she too is bound to serve him as befits her state of life. She should behave with love and concordance toward him at all times. May the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ remain with you and us forever and ever.

Faithful: Amen.

Priest: Our Father, who art in Heaven,

Faithful: Hallowed be Thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, on earth as it is in Heaven. Give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespassed against us, and lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from the evil one. For Thine is the kingdom, the power, and the glory, now and forever. Amen.

Nicene-Constantinopolitan Creed

Priest: We believe in one God,

Faithful: the Father almighty, maker of heaven and earth, of all things visible and invisible.

We believe in one Lord Jesus Christ, the Only Begotten Son of God, eternally begotten of the Father, before all ages. Light from Light, True God from True God, begotten, not made, consubstantial with the Father; through Him all things were made.

For us men and for our salvation, He came down from heaven, † and by the Holy Spirit, He was born of the Virgin Mary, and became incarnate. † For our sake, He was crucified † under Pontius Pilate. He suffered, died, and was buried.

On the third day He rose again, according to His Holy Will, and ascended into heaven, and is seated at the right hand of the Father. He will come again in great glory to judge the living and the dead, and His Kingdom will have no end.

We believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life to all, Who proceeds from the Father, and Who with the Father and the Son, is adored and glorified. He has spoken through the prophets and Apostles.

We believe in the one, holy, catholic and apostolic Church. We confess one baptism for the forgiveness of sins. We look forward to the resurrection of the dead, and the life of the world to come. Amen.

The incense is set.

Thank You

We thank the Lord God Almighty for guiding us throughout our relationship and for filling us with His grace and presence. We are so grateful to Him for making this day possible.

We thank each of you for joining us on our special day. We are honored to celebrate with you as we embark on the next chapter of our lives as husband and wife. Thank you to all those who traveled far to be here and to those who could not make it but continue to keep us in their thoughts and prayers.

We are extremely grateful to our family and friends for all the hard work that has gone into making this day possible. We also thank the clergy, coordinators, and everyone else that helped make our wedding day a memorable and special occasion. This day would not be the same without all of you.

We greatly appreciate all the love and support we have received. Please continue to keep us in your prayers. We look forward to celebrating this day with all of you!

With love,

Anju and Beven
